SHRAPNEL WORKERS
FOR WESTINGHOUSE

Scene of Activity Shifts to Wilmerding, With 20-000 Now Out.

INDUSTRIAL CRISIS THREATENS

American Federation of Labor Sends for Organizers and Effort Will be Made to Launch General Eight-Hour Day Movement in District on May 1.

By Associated Press.
PITTSBURGH, April 26.—Activity in the electrical workers' strike shifted today to Wilmerding, where fully 10-000 of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company's strikers assembled in an effort to bring out the shell makers in the plant of the Westinghouse Airbrake Company. There was some discussion and the strikers claimed they had added to their forces until they now number fully 20,000 men and women.

Advances of the American Federation of Labor into the strike was forecast late yesterday when Frank Morrison, international secretary, attended a strikers' meeting in East Pittsburgh, although he did not appear on the platform. Later he was quoted as saying that he had cited for a dozen federation organizers to report in this district. When asked if an industrial crisis would develop here May 1, he said:

"Well, I wouldn't say that, but along about that time organized labor will have a determined and forceful movement well under way here with an eight-hour day as the object."

Mr. Morrison, who had been stopping at a downtown hotel, left during the night and it was said he had moved to quarters closer to the strike district.
Shortly before noon notices were posted in the shops of the Union Switch & Signal Company at Swis-svale that the eight-hour day would not be permitted and immediately workmen began to leave their machines. By noon they had assembled in a nearby baseball park where they were addressed by leaders of the electrical strikers. About 27,000 men and women were thus added to the idle forces in the Turtle Creek valley.

A. L. Humphrey, vice president and manager of the Westinghouse Air-brake Company, said that 3,000 of the force at his works had gone out. He declared the men had been intimidated and were afraid to go near the shops.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 26.—The organized telegraphic propaganda against a break with Germany consentatives, particularly from the Middle West states, have been called to work sorting the messages and the telegraphic companies brought in extra operators.

It is estimated that more than 50,000 telegrams have come in so far. More are on file waiting to be sent tonight from Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Milwaukee and other cities.

Ireland is the natural result of the government's policy in Ireland," says the Daily Mail. "Augusta Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, and President Asquith sat still and allowed a revolt to take place which they might have stopped or checked."

"On March 17, 1,600 Irish volunteers paraded, mostly armed with rifles, and nobody stopped or challenged them."

AEROPLANE AND ZEPPELIN FIGHT A DUEL IN THE AIR

Engagement Occurs Two Miles Above Earth; Zeppelin Bomber Is Driven Off.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, April 26.—A French aero-plane and a Zeppelin fought a duel at an altitude of 4,000 meters off Zeebrugge today. The aeroplane fired nine incendiary shells at the Zeppelin which appeared to have been damaged.

The engagement occurring more than two miles above the earth was fought at 2 o'clock this morning. At the same time another French aero-plane armed with cannon fired numerous projectiles on a German torpedo boat off Ostend.

A German aeroplane of the Fokker type was brought down in an aerial combat near Lunenburg, France.

LONDON, April 26.—The Zeppelins which made a raid over the east last night returned at a great height, probably because they were subjected to violent fire from anti-aircraft guns.
The raiders were favored by the dark night and light winds but were forced to flee after a short time.

A correspondent in a town of Essex county says a Zeppelin was picked up by a searchlight at the outskirts of the county and in a few minutes was outlined by other searchlights.
The shrapnel began to burst around it from many directions. The Zeppelin climbed very high and hovered for 10 minutes. Then it sailed eastward.

No bombs were dropped after the searchlights found it.

TAKE GREEK REFUGEES
PARIS, April 26.—A Belgian patrol der of the front no action is under way with the exception of skirmishes.

French aircraft bombarded the camp at Deirna and Givell. One machine engaged in battle with a German machine, returning from a reconnaissance. The German was brought down near Ostrovo.

MINERS ARE FIRM

Will Stand Back of Committee's Action on Wage Demands.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 26.—The general committee representing the miners of the three anthracite districts of Pennsylvania endorsed at a meeting here today the report of the sub-committee which yesterday refused to accept the offer of the sub-committee of operators in respect to the miners' demands. These included only partial concessions and refusal of the miners' demand for recognition of the United Mine Workers of America and the employment of the no-called checkoff system.

John F. White, president of the United Mine Workers, said the committee would remain firm on the grounds taken by the sub-committee, which will be reported to a joint general conference of miners and operators tomorrow.

IRISH REVOLT BROKEN UP; REBEL STRONGHOLDS TAKEN

British Declare Martial Law and Send Troops to Dublin; Associations Are Outlawed.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, April 26.—Drastic steps have been taken by the British government to suppress the uprising in Dublin by the proclamation of martial law in the city and county and by proclaiming the associations which took part in the movement illegal organizations, which will enable the police to break them up.

This was announced in the House of Commons today by Premier Asquith, who, while making a more reassuring statement with regard to the situation in the Irish capital, did not add much to previous knowledge of what has happened there since Monday noon, when rebels took possession of the postoffice and certain sections of the city.

The prime minister was able to say, however, that Liberty Hall, the headquarters of the Sinn Fein party, and St. Stephens Green, which seems to have been the center of the rising, had been recaptured by the military, who were being reinforced by troops from England and Belfast.

Nationalist volunteers, Mr. Asquith said, had turned out to assist the authorities, while many local persons had offered this aid.

He read a telegram stating that the situation in Dublin was satisfactory.
It was not the case, the message stated, that the rebels had machine guns.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The war of the highest rank would be a sentence of death against "him and other English servants in this country."

WILD LIFE LEAGUE BANQUETS

Talks by "Scout Grizzly Bear" A. B.
Sanson, and Motion Pictures Are Features of a Delightful Evening Spent in Armory by 350 Members.

That interest in the Wild Life League of Northern Fayette has not waned during its first year was evidenced last evening when 350 enthusiastic sportsmen gathered at the Armory to start the second year of the organization and hear talks by men who know all about the open.
Memberships were taken out by 60 men before the meeting was closed and others will do so shortly.

The chief speaker of the evening was Charles L. Smith, known to sportsmen of Pennsylvania as "Grizzly Bear" Smith. He was not known by the latter name until he returned to Pennsylvania from the West.

"Grizzly Bear" upheld the Boy Scout movement, in which he interested, and pointed out why there should be Boy Scouts. He told how the boy scout helps the wild life by reporting conditions of game or the violation of laws. He discovered while hiking through the woods for, as the speaker termed it, "the boy is here, there and everywhere when he gets out into the brush."

"The conservation of wild life can be had through connection with the Boy Scout work," he declared. "Wild life must be preserved through education, and we must take the boy's mind while it is in a plastic state and mould it so he can understand the beauty of nature. The scout movement is helping wild life in that when a boy becomes a second class scout he automatically becomes a junior member of the Wild Life League. When you have a boy scout in your neighborhood, you have a friend of the league, who takes care of things and reports conditions."

"People who object to the Boy Scout movement are ignorant. They say they are afraid the boy will be called out when the country goes to war.
The Boy Scouts is no military organization. Bravery, character, honesty, sobriety and cheer are taught, but there is no such thing as manual of arms. There is an organization in New York and Brooklyn that gives military training and is always spoken of in newspapers as Boy Scouts. That gives us lots of trouble, as it is difficult to make parents understand that they are not the real kind of scouts. The work is founded on honor, and when a scout is accepted he gives his oath to do his best in both a moral and physical way."

"One other difficulty we encountered," he said, "is with parents who think we are trying to win the boys away from Sunday school and church. This is not true. We do not preach religion, and all are the same in a boy scout troop. We preach in a general way a reverence to God. The scout movement is merely a constructive movement to make good, strong, moral men."

"Grizzly Bear" then gave a short talk on British Columbia and the Canadian Rockies, where he spent the greater part of his life. He went to that place when 17 years old and only returned to this state a year ago last July to take up Boy Scout work. He said that in that section an area has been set aside as a permanent sanctuary of wild life. "That country is literally teeming with game and the overflow from the sanctuary makes good hunting in the entire region," he said. "In some streams no line has ever been cast and all that can be carried are easily caught in an hour.
To have wild life you must have the forests. Here in Pennsylvania you have them and there is no reason in the world why they should not be biologically teeming with all kinds of animals."

TAKING OPTIONS ON PROPERTY

Purchase of Additional Ground Along Right of Way as Far North as Pulaski Street Indicated by Activity of Realty Agents.

Inquiries by title agents and owners of additional properties along the present right-of-way of the road as far as Pulaski street indicate that the railroad wants all of that property for some purpose. No details have been made public.

The railroad has purchased the P.
T. Adams warehouse and the Old Fellows Temple between Apple street and Grape alley. The Old Fellows' building, it was intimated, will be torn down, but in the deal with Mr.
Adams the railroad refused to allow him to raze his warehouse. This would indicate that the Adams building is to be utilized in some way in the erection of the proposed new freight house.

An option on the Daniels & Miller yard at Fayette street is still in effect. Real estate agents of the road have indicated that at least 40 feet and perhaps more of this property will be needed. Another agent was this week looking up owners of properties between Fayette and Pulaski streets, along the line of the railroad.

Local officials of the railroad have not been taken into the confidence of their superiors as to what form the company's improvements here will take. It is known, however, that two years ago the railroad had drawn plans for a warehouse which was to give ample room for the proper classification of all freight. The offices were to be at the end where the present offices are located and the tracks and platforms were to extend to Apple street. Whether these plans have been changed is not known.

FAYETTE AN IDEAL SPOT FOR GAME IS EXPERTS' VERDICT

Get a movement started for a game sanctuary, where the animals will not be molested and you will soon have the hills and mountains full of game. Slides showing the hills and country of British Columbia were shown. C. A. Wagner, manager of the Globe Theatre furnished films and the machine. Many excellent close-up views of mountain sheep were shown. When a blue grouse was thrown on the screen, "Grizzly Bear" suggested that the league bring some of them here, as they will live in any region where there is overgrowth. The only other speaker of the evening was J. B. Sanson, secretary of the state league and editor of the Wild Life League magazine, "In The Open." He said there were lots of wild life organizations in the state, but none was better or larger than the one in Northern Fayette.

"Some of you men may think that you have not accomplished much, but what you want to accomplish can not be done in a day. What we want to see is the day when the mountains will be a playground; a camping, hunting or fishing ground on which there will never be posted a trespassing sign which will keep the people of Pennsylvania from their herbage." He also talked on the destruction of forest fires on wild life and showed slides of sections where fires had burned out the shelter for animals. "Your country here is the greatest game country in the state barring none, and all of it should be saved from fire even if the state has to buy every acre to do it," Sanson declared. Some of the best wild life moving pictures ever taken were shown to the sportsmen after the meeting was over. The pictures were made by Cherry Keaton in India and Africa. Other pictures shown were those taken at Killarney Park during a play season shot between Connelville and Uniontown teams.

A business meeting was held and J. E. Angle re-elected president, with J. C. Johnson re-elected secretary and treasurer. The four vice presidents were also re-elected. A new member, C. P. Newell of Mill Run, was elected to the board of directors, succeeding J. C. English of Indian Creek, who has moved. Secretary Munson read the financial report of the year. The membership of the league was 210 and the cash receipts amounted to $367.34. The expenditures were $239.33, leaving a cash balance of $128.01. During the year rabbits, ring neck pheasants, and seven wild turkeys have been put in the mountains. The meeting ended with a lunch that was served by the boys present. Sandwiches and coffee were served and cigars distributed.

Go to See Son. Chief of Police B. Rottler and Mrs. Rottler left this morning for Monongahela City where a son, Andrew, is suffering from an injured eye. A piece of steel struck it several days ago, and there are no signs of improvement. Assistant Chief W. B. Dowers is working a day turn today instead of being on the night shift.

What to Do for Itching Skins

There is usually immediate relief for itchy skin, burning and disfigured by eczema, ringworm, or similar tormenting skin trouble, in a warm bath with resinol soap and a simple application of resinol ointment. The soothing, healing resinol medication stops itching at once, and soon clears away all trace of eruption, even in severe and stubborn cases, unless the trouble is due to some serious internal disorder. You need never hesitate to use resinol. It is a doctor's prescription that has been used by other physicians for twenty years in the treatment of skin affections. It contains absolutely nothing that could injure the tenderest skin. Every druggist sells resinol ointment and resinol soap. Resinol Soap soothes tender skins and helps to make poor complexioned clear, fresh and velvety, because it contains this resinol prescription.

Tea, Coffee and Children

It would be difficult for any parent to find a physician of modern education who would contend that coffee and tea are not harmful, especially to growing children.

The fact remains, however that many parents give these beverages to their little folks and allow their use in older children at a time when physical and mental development is the most rapid.

The drug, caffeine, in coffee and tea retards growth and interferes with school progress. Disturbances of eyesight, headaches, nervousness, irritability, indigestion and other ills appear in many, seemingly without cause, and the damage often occurs at the most impressionable period of life.

No parent should permit the use of coffee and tea in the growing young for the men and women of tomorrow will be what the parent of today makes the children by wise upbringing.

Children as well as adults need an invigorating, warm drink, and in a growing number of homes it has been found that the most wholesome table beverage is

INSTANT POSTUM

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate People 200% in Ten Days

In many instances—persons have suffered untold agony for years due to lack of iron in the blood—How to tell.

New York, N. Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. Sauer, Specialist of this city said: "If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous loss and starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is tormented with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night; others are sleepy and tired all day; some fussy and irritable; some skiny and bloated, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases, it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your fading vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous run down people who were ailing all the time, double, and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in iron, ten to fourteen days time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonders wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated iron for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

NOTE—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they guarantee the improvement that they will forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time. provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is distributed in this city by A. A. Clarke and all other druggists.—Adv.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If Cross, Feverish or Bilious Give California "Syrup of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups.
Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

A PENNSYLVANIA WOMAN TESTIFIES

Back Hurt—Nervous—Sleepless.

Cherry Tree, Pa.—"Eight years ago when my little girl was born I came near dying. When I got able to go about, my back hurt so when I would bend over that I would have to take hold of something with my hands to get up. My husband got me two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I took along with me. I could sit up, and my back did not hurt me. Was so nervous I could not sleep nights; my heart troubled me and my back had sharp, aching pains when I would lean my head forward. I wrote to Dr. Pierce and was advised to take 'Favorite Prescription.' I used several bottles and now I do all my own work and tend to my garden and flowers. May God bless you is my prayer."—Mrs. ELLIS W. STRICKER, Route 2, Box 85.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription speedily causes all womanly troubles properly perform their natural func-

Woman's World

How One Englishwoman Describes Her Many War Duties.

THE COUNTESS OF ESSEX.

"Every morning," recently said Lady Essex, who was Miss Adele Grant of New York, "I go to St. James' pulpit and work, with a large number of other ladies, from 10 o'clock until 1— that is, for Queen Mary's Needlework guild. We have made 1,000,000 respirators for the soldiers in the trenches against gas attacks, and we have made innumerable surgical stores—bandages, etc.

"A good many other things fall to our care. This morning, for instance, 100 bales of towels arrived from the country. Dressing gowns, slippers, undergarments, all sorts of things, come to us as we ask for them. We sort them, inspect and send them, in required quantities, to their destinations. You may recall the war office asking for 8,000,000 pairs of socks about Christmas time a year ago. These were sent to us from everywhere, many of them incorrectly marked or not marked at all as to sizes. We had to measure every pair, label them and put them in packets of ten. That task alone meant six weeks' continuous work.

"My other duties are really too numerous to remember offhand. Let me see. At Watford—Watford is a town of 40,000 inhabitants in Hertfordshire, where we have a country place—I am on the executive committee of the urban council for war relief—that is, for the relief of civilians. I am president of the Soldiers and Sailors' Families' association, which supplements when necessary the war allowances given to wives and families. We have voluntary helpers, who take different districts, visit, write letters, find out if the families are getting their allowances and give privately additional help where it is needed. Often a woman wants to attend some function of her husband's regiment and lacks proper clothes, or, as an instance, a wife had word that her husband was wounded and in hospital at Plymouth. She had no means of her own to go to see him, and these had to be privately supplied her.

"Take the motors. At the beginning of the war the Automobile club was immediately offered 2,000 motors for war service. Since then many more have been quietly given, and these private individuals who have any left do not keep them for their own pleasure.

"Then everybody who has one lends it three or four afternoons a week for convalescent soldiers. We may be told after awhile that the use of motors must be cut down on account of petrol.

"Another luxury that may seem strange—the theater. No one dreamed of going to a theater at first. We hadn't the heart to do anything. Later the actors came out and said they were starving. Then the children returned from school for their holidays, and we felt we must exert ourselves to make things a little cheerful for them. We took them to the theaters. Gradually we ourselves got to going again. Now there are the convalescent soldiers who need entertainment, and their relatives, and the soldiers on leave—there must be relief.

"There is no longer any such thing as dinner parties," Lady Essex added. "We've quite put them out of our minds. Eight or ten people meet perhaps several times a week and happen to dine together, but there is no thought of dress and little of the dinner, except to keep it simple and sufficient. A dinner used to begin with soup and fish; there was an entrée. But now! Now it is soup or fish; there is a meat course and a sweet; that is all."

naumented with jade drops. Two beautiful silk tassels of oriental colors hang the lid. The basket is lined with satin and fitted with sewing utensils. The leather case contains a cut glass toothbrush holder and two bottles for powder and a mouth wash.

Candy Apples on the Stick.

Select nice apples that are not too large. Mount them on thin sticks—meat skewers will do. Have them ready so that by the time the sirup is ready for dipping no time may be lost.

Sirup.—One pound of sugar, one-half cupful of molasses, one-half cupful of water, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of cream of tartar, one tablespoonful of butter. Cook until when dropped in cold water the sirup is hard, or to 300 degrees F. on the candy thermometer. Keep hot while dipping the apples. Coat thoroughly. Lay in a greased dish, and then they will harden immediately.

A reliable candy thermometer can be bought for $1. As an investment it will pay for itself time and time again. Learn to make jelly by using the thermometer.

Stewed Okra.

Three cupfuls of okra, one cupful of canned tomatoes, one tablespoonful of butter and one teaspoonful of salt and pepper to taste. Wash the okra and cut it into thin slices. Put it into the saucepan with tomatoes; bring them to a boil; then lower the heat and let them simmer half an hour. Add the salt ten minutes before they are done and the pepper and butter just before serving.

Kentucky Scalloped Potatoes.

Slice potatoes and lay in the water half an hour. Place a layer of potatoes in a well buttered baking dish, sprinkle with pepper, salt and pieces of butter; repeat the process until there is a sufficient quantity. Pour over this enough milk to cover and bake an hour and a half or until the potatoes are thoroughly cooked. If onions are liked with the potatoes alternate layers may be used.

Gatty Sellars, Noted Organist,
Will Appear Here on Thursday

Gatty Sellars, the noted English organist, will appear in Connellsville on Thursday when he will give both afternoon and evening recitals on the splendid organ of the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. Sellars has an elaborate program for both recitals.

BEDROOM SLIPPERS.

Various Netting Comforts That May Also Be Good Looking.

It is possible to have attractive bedroom slippers which match your negligee, or at least are in accord with it. There are endless varieties of "males" in gay colored silk or satin, edged with silk cord and decorated with tiny rosebuds. This is the kind of work that the expert needlewoman enjoys, but besides such dainty trifles many sensible everyday ones can be bought which do not clash with one's beauty loving tastes.

Kid slippers, with low, comfortable heels, may be bought in pinks, blues and browns. Very similar to them are the felt styles, whose luster is decorated with a cut out design of the felt over a contrasting color.

White kid well covered with a Japanese embossed design are shown. Most luxurious are the slippers of bright quilted satin, whose ribbon rosettes hold a tiny rhinestone.

Made with only a toe covering, but minus the heels attached to "males," are other models, some covered with white tulle, decorated with a satin bow; others, to be used on route to the bath, are made of checked toweling, the edges bound with corduroy and the sole being very woolly.

Mixed Metaphor.

King Edward VII, when he was Prince of Wales, once made a funny mixture of metaphors. In reply to certain inquiries and admonitions he said, "I will do my best to walk in my father's footsteps, which you have held up for my imitation."

HOW TO TREAT BURNS, CUTS AND BRUISES

Prominent Manufacturer Finds Most Effective First Aid Remedy.

One of Buffalo's leading manufacturers in whose factory burns, bruises and cuts are almost of daily occurrence says they are now using with amazing success antiseptic Ucanol when anything happens demanding the prompt application of a soothing, healing, pain-killing agent. Not only does this wonderful ointment give immediate relief for minor burns but it is invaluable for serious burns and scalds. Only recently a workman was seriously burned and it was thought it would be weeks before he could resume work. A prompt application of Ucanol almost instantly stopped the pain, the healing began at once, and in just a few days he was back at work again.

Ucanol is antiseptic, cooling and wonderfully stimulating to the diseased or injured tissue. In all cases of eczema, itching skin, old sores and piles just one application usually brings blessed relief.

Ucanol should always be on your medicine shelf. Get a large 50-cent box at A. A. Clarke's today and save yourself hours of needless pain and trouble.—Adv.

BEFORE ADAM

Copyright, 1907, by the MacMillan company.

Very strong upon me is one picture. Large trees are about us, and from their branches hang great filaments of moss, while great creepers, like monstrous serpents, curl around the trunks and writhe in tangles through the air. And all about is the mud, soft mud, that bubbles forth from the ground and heaves and shifts with internal agitations. And in the midst of all this is a crowd of us. We are lean and wretched, and our bones show through our tight stretched skins. We do not glow and chatter and laugh. We play no pranks. For once our volatile and exuberant spirits are hopelessly subdued. We make plaintive, querulous noises, look at one another and cluster close together. It is like the meeting of the hunted of survivors after the day of the end of the world.

This event is without connection with the other events in the swamp. How we ever managed to cross it I do not know, but at last we came out where a low range of hills ran down to the bank of the river. It was our river emerging like ourselves from the great swamp. On the south bank, where the river had broken its way through the hills, we found some sandstone caves. Beyond, toward the west, the ocean loomed on the horizon but by across the river's mouth. And here in the caves we settled down in our abiding place by the sea.

There were not many of us. From time to time as the days went by more of the folk appeared. They dragged themselves from the swamp singly and in twos and threes, more dead than alive, more perambulating skeletons, until at last there were thirty of us. Then no more came from the swamp, and Red Eye was not among us. It was noticeable that no children had survived the frightful journey.

I shall not tell in detail of the years we lived by the sea. The air was raw and chilly, and we suffered continually from coughing and colds. We could not survive in such an environment. True, we had children, but they had little hold on life and died early, while we died faster than new ones were born. Our number steadily diminished.

Then, the radical change in our diet was not good for us. We got four vegetables and fruits and became fish eaters. There were mussels and abalones and clams and rock oysters and great ocean crabs that were thrown upon the beaches in stormy weather; also we found several kinds of seaweed that were good to eat. But the change in diet caused us stomach troubles, and none of us ever recovered. We were all lean and dyspeptic looking. It was in getting the big abalones that Red Eye was lost. One of them closed upon his fingers at low tide, and then the flood tide came in and drowned him. We found his body the next day, and it was a lesson to us. Not another one of us was ever caught in the closing shell of an abalone.

The Swift One and I managed to bring up one child, a boy, at least we managed to bring him along for several years. But I am quite confident he could never have survived that terrible climate. And then one day the Fire People appeared again. They had come down the river, not on a catamaran, but in a huge dugout. There were three of them that paddled in it, and one of them was the little, wizened old hunter. They landed on our beach, and he slipped across the sand and examined our caves.

They went away in a few minutes, but the Swift One was badly scared. We were all frightened, but none of us to the extent that she was. She whimpered and cried and was restless all that night. In the morning she took the child in her arms and by sharp cries, gestures and example started me on our second long flight. There were eight of the folk (all that was left of the horde that remained behind in the caves. There was no hope for them. Without doubt, even if the Fire People did not return, they must soon have perished. It was a bad climate down there by the sea. The folk were not constituted for the coast dwelling life.

We traveled south, for days skirting the great swamp, but never venturing into it. Once we broke back to the westward, crossing a range of mountains and reaching down to the coast. But it was no place for us. There were no trees, only black headlands, a thundering surf and strong winds that seemed never to cease from blowing. We turned back across the mountains, traveling east and south, until we came in touch with the great swamp again.

Soon we gained the southern extremity of the swamp, and we continued our course south and east. It was a pleasant land. The air was warm, and we were again in the forest. Later on we crossed a low lying range of hills and found ourselves in an even better forest country. The further we penetrated from the coast the warmer we found it, and we went on and on until we came to a large river that seemed familiar to the Swift One. It was where she must have come during the four years' absence from the horde. This river we crossed on logs, building on the other side at the base of a large bluff. High up on the bluff we found our new home, a cave most difficult of access and quite hidden from any eye beneath.

There is little more of my tale to tell. Here the Swift One and I lived and reared our family. And here my narrative ends. My narrative ends another narrative dream beyond our high, inaccessible cave. And there must have been here the child that inherited the story of my dream that had faded into being on the impressions of my life, or of the life of Big Tooth, rather, who is my real self and not my real self, but who is so real to me that often I am unable to tell what age I am living in.

I often wonder about this line of descent. I, the modern, am inconceivably a man, yet I, Big Tooth, the primitive, am not a man. Somewhere and by straight line of descent these two parties to my dual personality were connected. Were the folk before their destruction in the process of becoming men? And did I and mine carry through this process? On the other hand, may not some descendant of mine have gone into the Fire People and become one of them? I do not know. There is no way of learning. One thing only is certain, and that is that Big Tooth did stamp into the cerebral constitution of one of his progeny all the impressions of his life and stamped them in so indelibly that the hosts of intervening generations have failed to obliterate them.

There is one other thing of which I must speak before I close. It is a dream that I dream often, and in point of time the real event must have occurred during the period of my living in the high, inaccessible cave. I remember that I wandered far in the forest toward the east. There I came upon a tribe of Fire People. I crouched in a thicket and watched them at play. They were holding a long, long council, jumping up and down and screaming their choruses.

Suddenly they hushed their noise and ceased their capering. They shrank down in fear and quaked anxiously about with their eyes for a way of retreat. Then Red Eye walked in among them. They cowered away from him.

Red Eye Walked In Among Them.

All were frightened. But he made no attempt to harm them. He was one of them. At his heels, on sturdy hind legs, supporting himself with knuckles to the ground on either side, walked an old female of the Fire People, his latest wife. He sat down in the midst of the circle. I can see him now as I write this, growing, his eyes flamed as he peers about him at the circle of the Fire People. And as he peers he crouches one monstrous leg and with his gnarled toes scratches himself on the stomach. He is Red Eye, the attorney.

THE END.

TWO OLD PROBLEMS.

The Moving Train and the Bullet Fired From a Rifle.

A correspondent sends these two questions to the Scientific American: "First.—If a train was running at a speed of sixty miles an hour and a man is sitting on the back end of this train with a gun that would shoot at the rate of sixty miles an hour and he shoots from the back end of this train in opposite direction, what effect would this condition have on the bullet?" "Second.—If the man with the gun was on the front end of this train and was to shoot back at a man on the back end of train and train to be go-

ANTIQUITY OF WHEAT.

This Cereal Was Common in China 5,000 Years Ago.

Probably man would survive if the earth never produced another grain of wheat. But he would not find it easy to get along without this useful grain, for the eating of bread and other things made from wheat flour is a habit to which he has been addicted for nearly 5,000 years.

Wheat, it is thought, was first grown in the valleys of the Tigris and the Euphrates. Gradually it spread to the east, and it is known that in China it was cultivated extensively as early as 5000 B. C. Wheat formed the chief food of the people of Biblical times. The term "wheat" is derived from an old English word, "hyaste," meaning white.

The wheat of today differs somewhat from that of early history. Through intensive cultivation and cross fertilization it has reached a high state of perfection.

Wheat is the most widely known of the cereal grains. It is found wherever the white man has penetrated. It is grown on the Himalayan slopes 10,000 feet above sea level, on the great central plain of North America, in the tropical countries of Africa and India. We even find that as far north as the sixtieth parallel of latitude in Alaska, Russia, Germany, France and England, thousands of acres of wheat are harvested every year.

The fact that wheat can be readily adapted to various conditions of soil and climate makes it the most valuable of all cereal grains.

There are many different varieties of wheat due to the differences of soil and climate, but in general we divide it into two classes—winter or soft wheat, sown in the fall and harvested during the last summer months, and spring or hard wheat, sown early in the spring and harvested late in the summer.

A grain of wheat is composed of four parts—the husk, which consists of five distinct layers of bran; the cereal layer, a thin membrane inclosing the starch cells, and the germ. During the milling process the bran coats and the germ are removed.

Wheat flour is made by grinding the entire grain to a moderate grade of fineness. Entire wheat flour is made by grinding the grain and removing the three outer coats. If the germ were not removed from the flour the color and the keeping qualities would be affected.

There are twenty-four steps in the milling process from the time the wheat is weighed until it is sold as flour. The by-products, bran and middlings, are sold to the farmer for the feeding of cattle.

There are over fifty varieties of flour made from spring wheat is commonly known as bread flour. Bread flour is rich in gluten. Gluten has the power of expansion after the addition of moisture and heat, and a flour rich in gluten, as bread flour is, will produce a light loaf of bread.

Flour made from winter wheat is commonly known as pastry flour. Pastry flour contains less gluten and more starch than bread flour.—Exchange.

VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. As a liver stimulant, it's great. It's a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe may-apple root (podosphylla, they call it) daily.

Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most drug stores in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Santalax Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it.

These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers. They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing you headache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue.

They are mild. They never gripe. And they are a bowel tonic as well as a cleanser and liver regulator. A 40c box should last one several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Santalax Remedies Co., 502 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

"SAFETY FIRST" IS LESSON UNCLE SAM WOULD BRING HOME

Special Train Starts on Country-Wide Tour Next Monday.

CONNELLSVILLE TO BE VISITED

Cars Which Carry Federal Exhibits in Safety Devices Will Travel Over Baltimore & Ohio System and Then be Transferred to Other Roads.

Special to The Courier.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Work was begun here today on the "safety first" government exhibit train which will visit Conneltsville in the near future. Next Monday the train will start from here over the lines of the Baltimore & Ohio. Twelve steel cars are on the sidetracks here being loaded with the exhibits which will portray in dramatic manner the various activities of the government bureau in life-saving work. The train will give the people of the country a quarter of a mile of graphic illustrations of the government's efforts along humanitarian lines.

On just what date the train will be in Conneltsville cannot yet be stated, as the schedule is worked out for only a short period after the train leaves Philadelphia on its westward route, taking in various cities and towns along the Baltimore & Ohio. The schedule has been worked out definitely only as far as Parkersburg to reach which point will require two weeks. From that point it is still undecided just how the schedule will be arranged. It was said to be possible that the train might be sent from Parkersburg to some point considerably further west and allowed to move east.

After exhibiting at the important towns and cities along the Baltimore & Ohio, the "safety first" exhibit will be taken over the other trunk lines of the country so that every citizen who cares about what the government is doing may have an opportunity to witness the exhibits. It will carry right to the homes of the people a vivid and accurate idea of what the federal government is doing in various ways to save human life.

The Bureau of Mines will have a complete exhibit of its apparatus for the saving of life in the mines and will show how the death rates already have been lowered through its efforts in co-operation with the various states. A unique exhibit will be an apparatus invented by one of the engineers of the bureau which permits the wearer to enter places filled with poisonous gases. Heretofore the apparatus of this character came from foreign countries, but this American apparatus is said to be superior to any of the foreign makes.

The Forest Service will show how it prevents, detects and suppresses forest fires which in the past have ranked as great calamities, destroying scores of human lives. The Weather Bureau will show the intricate apparatus it uses in determining the weather conditions and the approach of storms and floods, and will demonstrate how in time of stress millions of dollars' worth of property have been saved by its timely warnings. The Reclamation Service will show its methods of reclaiming the desert wastes and preparing them for the habitation of man.

The Interstate Commerce Commission will be represented by three model cars, fully equipped with the safety appliances approved by the United States government, and will show the marked decrease in the number of trainmen killed since these appliances were adopted. The American Red Cross Society will explain how it goes into the crowded factory districts and teaches the workmen first aid to the injured. Two instruction cars are maintained on the railroads of the country for this purpose.

The Public Health Service will show by models and charts what this service is accomplishing for the health of the people. This branch of the government is charged with the responsibility of keeping epidemics of dread diseases out of the United States, and it claims that the present freedom of this country from typhus fever, cholera and yellow fever is due in great part to the efficiency of the quarantine service. This organization will also show that the death rate from preventable diseases is continually being lowered in the cities because the urban dweller is protected in the water he drinks, the food he eats and the manner in which his working conditions are regulated, while those people living in the rural

HERE'S A CHEW THAT WILL CHEER YOU UP

"American Navy" Has No Equal For Tobacco Taste

FULL OF CHOICE FLAVOR

The fact that the chew is the best way to use tobacco is proved by the refreshing effect you get from it.

The sweet, savory juices, which a chew of American Navy brings directly against your tongue, give complete tobacco satisfaction. That accounts for the pleasure and comfort American Navy gives you.

American Navy is made from the same kind of leaf used in good cigars. But instead of being loose "cuttings," it is whole long leaf, pressed into clean, pure plugs.

Try American Navy. You'll be surprised to see what a splendid quality it is, and what a big cut you get for your money. Your dealer has it—5c and 10c cuts.

districts are still exposed to the same health hazards with the result that the death toll in the country places has not been lowered.

The Coast Guard Service which last year saved 1,507 people on the oceans and great lakes from untimely deaths and also saved property to the value of more than $11,000,000, will exhibit life boats, rapid-firing guns for throwing life lines to ships in distress, the breeches buoy for saving life at sea, and wireless outfits for life with boat expeditions or for setting up on shore or wreck to communicate with the revenue cutter.

Carranza Troops Outnumbering Pershing, on All Sides of Him

The map herewith shows the location of General Pershing's forces in Mexico and how they are entirely surrounded by Carranza troops and outnumbered three to one. The heavy black line indicates the line of communications of the United States troops. The American forces number about 12,000 on a 375 mile line of communication. There are Carranza garrisons north, south, east and west of Pershing, the principal one being at Torreon, where General Trevino has about 1,000 men.
